SSMR MR Process Engineer(PES) 工艺工程师 (系统集成测试)

Mission:

1. Enable continuous technological support for the system integration production and process control according to our quality system and product introduction plans for medical devices.

2. Enable develop and maintain the test software using in system integration.

Responsibilities:

1. Responsible for the development, maintenance, optimization and troubleshooting of MR production testing software.

2. Steer definition, development, and implementation of production processes

3. Transfer design from R&D to production (New project and change request)

4. Implement new production technologies for continuous process optimization

5. Develop and maintain production documentation, develop, and manage tooling, equipment and new technology

6. Map for production layout (working area)

7. Particpate supplier audits. Support to QM ensure that governmental and internal regulatory are followed.

Requirements:

1. Master or above, major in automation or electric or software